COLUMBIA-CHARLOTTE ROUTE TO BE IMPROVED

The State.

Chester, Nov. 26.—Good roads enthusiasts from all along the route from Charlotte to Columbia, including Fort Mill, Rock Hill, Chester, Woodward, White Oak and Winnsboro, assembled here Friday and formed a permanent organization to improve and boost what will be known in the future as the Carolina Short Line highway from Charlotte to Columbia for tourists to travel.

The meeting was called by the good roads bureau of the Chester chamber of commerce and definite action at this time resulted from the recently authorized $500,000 bond issue in Fairfield county, which will make funds available to complete this through highway.

Officers elected are: Col. A. L. Gaston, president, Chester. Three vice presidents from each county: York, John T. Roddey and Dr. W. W. Fennell, Rock Hill; Col. J. Lee Spratt, Fort Mill; Robert Gage and E. R. Lucas, Chester; Fairfield, B. H. Heyward, Rion; W. A. Patrick, Woodward and Gordon A. Johnstone, Winnsboro; H. S. Adams, Chester, is secretary.

With the completion of the road in the vicinity of Fort Mill, now under construction, and the Fairfield county line from Blackstock to Winnsboro, this through route for a distance of 112 miles, connecting Charlotte and Columbia will be finished.

The officers will compose the board of directors, which will hold monthly meetings and the association will meet semi-annually, with five delegates from each of the larger towns along the route and one delegate from the smaller towns to be named by the county vice president.

Col. A. L. Gaston of Chester, served as chairman of the meeting and H. B. Branch, secretary of the Chester chamber of commerce, as secretary. B. H. Heyward of Rion, Fairfield county, told of the recent success in his county of the $500,000 bond issue after a protracted fight. He also emphasized the value of the towns along this line cooperating in the interest of this project. Col. J. Lee Spratt of Fort Mill assured the association that the people of Fort Mill township would see that the highway is improved through that section to the Mecklenburg line, under the present bond issue of $100,000 and other plans that they have under way.

John T. Roddey of Rock Hill spoke enthusiastically in favor of the project as a whole and the great benefits to be derived from this highway. He pledged the support of the people of Rock Hill.

W. M. Patrick of White Oak, Fairfield county said he voiced the sentiments of the people of his section in favor of this proposed through route and assured the association that the first work in Fairfield county under the new bond issue would be to improve the road from Blackstock to Winnsboro.

Senator David Hamilton of Chester and Representative J. L. Glenn, Jr., in their talks manifested intense interest in the Carolina Short Line route and spoke of highway developments in general as it pertains to South Carolina. John M. Wise of Chester also indorsed the plans of the association and urged them to cooperate effectively in this work.

E. D. Sloan, field engineer of the South Carolina Highway commission, gave the newly organized association valuable information.

T. L. Kirkpatrick, president of the Charlotte chamber of commerce and one of North Carolina's constructive good roads enthusiasts, was invited to the meeting by the Chester chamber of commerce, but found it impossible to be present.

A telegram from him is as follows: "Impossible to accept invitation to address your people at road meeting. Exceedingly regret inability to be present. Charlotte and North Carolina express hope that Chester and South Carolina will be able to attain immediately state system hard surfaced and modern highways. If can be of further service at later date advise."

Plans were made today to advertise thoroughly the route. Maps will be prepared at once and other material to effectively call this highway to the attention of tourist travel. The first meeting of the directors will be held at Rock Hill in January.
